COOLIDGE IS TODAY ACTIVE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 15.—The Coolidge candidacy for the 1924 nomination and election to succeed him, took on its final shape today. Incidental with the revelation that the Coolidge-country-wide organization was to be one of the most important in the history of the campaign, it was stated that the White House had authorized the "Coolidge" name in the campaign. Representative Good, of Pennsylvania, who is in charge of the general campaign headquarters in Chicago, from which the campaign as a whole will be directed, today was to begin his tour of the country to begin operations.

Mr. M. Butler, Campaign Manager, began a series of conferences in New York today, with a view to selecting state managers to extend the Coolidge organization into every section of the country.

While the above plans of the Coolidge campaign were revealed as a part of conferences here yesterday, Mr. Butler and others, it was expected, that further details of the organization of the Coolidge campaign will be formally announced.

According to tentative plans, the campaign of strategy is understood to include former Ambassador Hughes, Charles B. Warren, Michigan and Frank W. Stearns, Illinois. Mr. Coolidge will not make a speaking tour during the campaign. The campaign here expressed his belief that the Coolidge campaign will be successful in Washington and in the other states.

Armen Light House, Well Known By Overseas Men, Is Destroyed By Fire

Boston, Dec. 15.—The keepers of the Armen light house, whose beams are visible to thousands of ships in the Atlantic, were driven by flames from the station during the night. The fire, which started in the lower portion of the light house, was caused by a gas leak. The fire was extinguished by the fire department. The lighthouse is a well-known landmark for ships in the Atlantic.

PITTSBURGH WILL HAVE SECOND LARGEST HOTEL

Pittsburgh, Dec. 14.—Pittsburgh will have its second largest hotel within a year, when the addition to the William Penn hotel will be added at a cost of $4,000,000, according to Col. C. C. Butler, general manager.

The plans for this addition has been sanctioned by the Pittsburgh Hotel Company, proprietor of the William Penn.

The new addition will incorporate 1126 rooms, each with a bath, making the institution within a few rooms the equal of the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York, which is the largest in the world.

FIRE LADDIES CALLED OUT, PHONES PUT OUT OF COMMISH' AND 'HELLO' GIRLS PROMISE TO TELL THE TRUTH WHEN HIGH VOLTAGE WIRE SHIMMIES

Ever since our late lamented friend could get under Pop's hide was in the old Benny Franklin hung the key of the rear of the local exchange on Second street, where a similar happening cut into a thunder storm and snatched up a few dimes some time ago. At a little dash of lightning from the sky, any rate, the awful charge hit the lot of wise guys have been trying to develop and understand something about electricity. Thus far about all in the exchange as a sort of bodyguard for the exchange means make meters run like the devil and while the "line policeman" successfully stopped the runaway juice, he got so hot about it that the pole he was located on was soon a pillar of fire.

The fire alarm was sounded at 6:15 a. m. and the firemen, with their chemical apparatus, were soon at hand to assist the telephone men in combating the blaze. It was hard to do and while the fire was soon under control, the pole was still burning at 8 o'clock this morning.

The flash put the telephone business pretty badly out of joint in Clearfield today, the local exchange being cut off from everything south of the exchange for the better part of the day while repairs were being made. The money loss will be considerable.

It is said, but we can't vouch for the truth of this part of the tale, that when the juice reached the burner pole she snapped and cracked in and about the exchange in such a terrifying manner that it scared the exchange girls green. Pete Barratt, when he came to their assistance, the first man on the job, they were down on their knees praying to be forgiven for their shortcomings, while promising never to be to another nation by telling him the "line's busy," when it isn't, so some good may come out of this visitation along with the damage and loss, which includes our morning beauty sleep.

GERMANY SEEKING ANOTHER CONFAB WITH MR. POINCARE

Paris, Dec. 15.—The first step toward opening direct Franco-German conferences regarding the Ruhr and Rhineland situation was taken today when a German emissary, Her Von Hoersch, visited Premier Poincare at 9:30 a. m.

Von Hoersch requested that negotiations to facilitate accords reached regarding resumption of industry in the Ruhr be opened at once. Poincare, who received the German somewhat hesitatingly, did not immediately reply. The French Premier requested that Von Hoersch submit his suggestion in writing. When this is done, Poincare will reply in writing.

Earthquake Levels Small Town On Frontier 'Twixt Ecuador And Colombia

Bogota, Colombia, Dec. 15.—An earthquake today destroyed the town of Carlo Sama and Cumbal on the frontier between Ecuador and Colombia and damaged Tulcan, Tugueres and Ipiales.

Several lives were lost, according to first reports.

The earthquake was of eight seconds duration.

MILLIONS FOR TOBACCO

More than 50,000,000 pounds of bright leaf tobacco have been sold here since August. This market is the largest in the world for tobacco of that type. Nearly $12,000,000 has been paid to growers. Tobacco board of trade men estimate that the Eastern North Carolina crop will exceed 160,000,000 pounds.

As Predicted, The Burg Falls Victim To C. H. S.'s Fast Passing and Defense

Unleashing a fast passing attack and wonderful five-man defense, the local High School basketball team, to a flying start and administered a 35-14 defeat to the Phillipsburg High basketball team here last evening. Playing before the largest opening crowd in years in the High School gym, the locals displayed a fast, snappy game and thanks to their brilliant work the game was never in doubt.

The opening combination worked with clock-like precision, the team being Wilson and "Pete" Barne at forwards, "Ken" Barne and Capt. Miltchreid at guards, with Nick Brown at center. Ammerman, Rafferty, and Maurer received their first "in action" baptisms, while Scott Norris did his share at guard also.

The visitors' inability to pierce the Clearfield five-man defense was responsible for their defeat. The strength of the local defense can be found in this that the Burgers got only four open shots in the entire first quarter, the quarter ending 12-0, with the visitors at the latter end. The visitors started a slight comeback and by the fine work of Champ at center held the locals down.

Coch Reed started an entire green team at the beginning of the third quarter, but they too have the scoring habit and boosted the score up to 33-14.

AUDITOR GENERAL APPOINTS DUBOIS CITIZEN TO JOB

Harrisburg, Dec. 15.—Auditor General Samuel Lewis has announced appointment of merchantile appraisers for 1924 in 53 counties. The other appointments will be announced later.

The auditor general has called a meeting of the appointees for next Wednesday for the purpose of receiving instruction.

S. A. Eisenman, of DuBois, was named for Clearfield county.

Mr. and Mrs. McCabe have moved into and are occupying their new home on Front street, the Mrs. G. H. Thompson apartment.

"Divorce Mill" Judge Martin Calls Penna.

Philadelphia, Dec. 15.—(United Press)—Pennsylvania is rapidly becoming a "divorce mill" according to Judge J. Willis Martin.

"Conditions here are almost as bad as they are in Nevada. There is a bona fide residence of six months must be had. In Pennsylvania the residence requirements stipulate one year," Judge Martin said.

"No divorces for incompatibility of temperament are granted in Pennsylvania but it is very easy to obtain a divorce on the grounds of technical desertion. If the other party is not within the jurisdiction of the court the papers need not be served and the legal requirements are fulfilled simply by inserting an advertisement in a newspaper to the fact that the plaintiff has applied for a legal separation."

"The laxity of our state laws has brought many prospective divorces from other states, especially from New York. Pennsylvania is virtually turned into a divorce mill for the entire Atlantic coast region."

"There is a crying need for legislation to curb this mania. All the judges in the state are powerless to check this carnival at present."

Judge Martin recommended federal legislation providing uniform divorce laws as a curb for the growing evil.

Many Releases From The County Prison Prior To Happy Holiday Season

Christmas presents in the way of parole from jail sentences were handed out by Judge Bell yesterday to three prisoners in the county jail.

Louie Paddy, of DuBois, who was convicted of violation of the liquor law and had served ten months of a twelve months sentence, was released and given six months in which to pay his $100 fine and costs.

Steve Lafarro, of DuBois, sentenced November 15th last to serve one year in jail and pay $100 fine and costs for liquor law violation, was paroled and given three months in which to pay the fine and costs.

Clem Woods, also of DuBois, another liquor law violator, who was sentenced on November 13th last to pay $100 fine and costs and serve eight months in jail, will eat his Christmas turkey at home as his parole begins December 24th. His fine and costs are paid.

Sheriff Lowell has 20 boarders left on his hands and would like to be relieved of a few more before he places his order for Christmas turkeys.

Murderer Of Three Men Is Killed In Barricade By Machine Gun Fire

Drew, Miss, Dec. 15.—Joe Pullen, negro, who shot and killed three white men and wounded nine others died from machinegun bullet wounds while lying in a street in Drew at 2:00 p. m. while a large crowd milled about, threatening to burn him. Pullen was trapped at midnight in a drainage ditch, after a 15-hour chase. Machinegun fire was turned onto the improvised fortress in the ditch where he made his stand. Many bullets struck him.

When members of the posse reached him, he was still alive. He was brought to Drew and left dying in the street near the depot, where a large crowd of curious gathered. He expired before threats, made by the crowd, were carried out. Those killed by Pullen were:

W. D. Sanders, planter, who employed the negro.

H. C. Hess.

R. L. Metzin.

All of the dead and wounded except Sanders were members of the posse chasing the fugitive. Sanders was shot when he attempted to collect rent from Pullen.

Congressman Swoope Has Been Placed On Five Committees

It will be of interest to the constituents of the 23d District to learn that Rep. William I. Swoope has been named to five committees for this session of congress. They are Immigration and Naturalization, Invalid Pensions, War Claims, Revision of Laws, and Elections No. 3.

Any citizen having business with the government or interest in any matter coming under these heads will be heard with pleasure by Congressman Swoope.

W. Elbridge Brown Is Named Solicitor By the New County Controller

A. C. Woodward, of Crowsville, County Controller-elect, who will take office the first Monday in January, was in town yesterday shaping up some matters preparatory to taking over the duties of the office. While discussing the conduct of the office he let it be known that he has requested W. Elbridge Brown, Esq., to take appointment as Solicitor to the County Controller and Mr. Brown accepted the appointment.

The appointment is considered a very good one from every angle. Mr. Brown is a native of the Oseola region and has been practicing law in Clearfield for about three years. During his residence here he has been an active spirit in the business and community life and by close application to business has already built for himself a fine practice. His ability was so recognized that his name was put before the convention which named the Republican candidate for Controller. A veteran of the world war, Mr. Brown is actively identified with American Legion activities.

CONTROL OF RULES COMMITTEE CAUSE OF HOUSE BATTLE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 15.—A major political battle between Progressives and Conservative forces, both Republican and Democratic, is on behind locked doors in the House. The controlling of the powerful Rules Committee, charged with revising the rules and directing legislation, is the prize.

For three days, Republican, Progressive and Democratic leaders have been holding scores of informal conferences in committee rooms. Administration leaders, after more conferences today with Democratic and Progressive leaders, decided to move another adjournment of the House until a compromise could be worked out. Meanwhile another Republican caucus is scheduled immediately after adjournment. The Democratic caucus scheduled for today was postponed until Friday.

Republican leaders virtually agreed to give the Democrats five places on the Rules Committee to seven to the Republicans instead of the original

"Battle Of The West" Has Begun, Say Reports From Mexican Border

Vera Cruz, Dec. 15.—The battle of the west has begun, according to reports from Adolfo de La Huerta's headquarters here. General Estrada's troops, augmented by four regiments which deserted Oregon, bringing three batteries and ten airplanes to the rebels, were in contact with advancing rebels at Calaya. In the east Oregon's troops were evacuating Puebla. The general, commanding the federals, surrendered at the moment when he was expected to defend the city.

KILLED BY A GOOSE

Berlin. (United Press) Dec. 15.—The little eleven-year-old daughter of the war-widow, Anna Plick, of Niederricht, Germany, was killed by a goose. The child, while picking feathers from a good-sized old goose of unusual strength, was struck between the eyes by a wing and fell to the ground, releasing her hold on the fowl. The girl rushed into the house, fell unconscious at her mother's feet and died soon after.

FIFTY YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN ATTEND PENN STATE FROM CLEARFIELD COUNTY

With the approach of Christmas the annual holiday period for the college students is about to begin. Among the first of the boys and girls from Clearfield county to return to their homes are 50 who have been attending the Pennsylvania State College and whose vacation began at the close of classes on Friday, Dec. 14.

The Penn State students are particularly fortunate this year for their holiday will continue until the morning of Thursday, January 31d, a stretch of almost three weeks. There are several reasons for this extended vacation, chief of which being that many of the State College students count on obtaining work over Christmas to earn enough funds to help them through the second semester which begins the end of January.

The Christmas vacation was lengthened also due to the curtailment of a Thanksgiving holiday, Penn State limiting the latter to a single day, whereas many other institutions allowed their students to go home from Wednesday until Monday at that time.

Penn State has decided to admit a class of 100 new freshmen at mid-year this year for the first time in the history of the institution, to replace those who will graduate at that time or who have dropped out during the first semester. Many of the students from this county expect to visit the local high schools and they will be able to give information concerning this mid-year class to any high school students who will be prepared to enter college at that time.

W. L. Ammerman, industrial engineering; R. E. Armstrong, agriculture; W. C. Chase, pre-law; R. P. Gaulin, industrial engineering; E. E. Howard, industrial engineering; H. Y. Johnson, commerce & finance; H. K. Johnson, dairy husbandry; W. W. Johnson, commerce & finance; H. H. Lowell, industrial engineering; H. B. McCabe, commerce & finance; J. W. McCabe, mechanical engineering; D. M. Mapes, industrial engineering; L. M. Mease, mechanical engineering; D. D. Neff, commerce & finance; E. R. Pearce, industrial engineering; E. M. Perk, civil engineering; N. R. Smith, industrial engineering; C. M. Torrence, dairy husbandry; all from Clearfield; D. F. Apple, mining; J. A. Davidson, poultry husbandry; R. C. Weaver, mechanical engineering; J. Mahaffey, G. W. Batchelor, dairy husbandry; from Glen Richey; E. G. Bealla, dairy husbandry, from Morris; B. Byers, industrial engineering; M. T. Food, Work And Music On Menu Of Eleventh Street Brotherhood

The monthly fellowship supper for the Brotherhood of the Eleventh Street Church was held in the social room Thursday evening with an attendance of twenty-five. These have been very interesting occasions which have been well supported by the men, and it was unanimously decided that they be continued.

After a sumptuous feast of good things prepared by the Ladies' Aid Society, working tags were donated and many repairs made to the church property. Some new equipment was built for various departments of the Sunday school, which will make this one of the best organized and equipped Sunday schools in this vicinity. A reference library is being added for the benefit of the teachers and scholars. Fortunately for this school, it was not necessary to submit this addition to the voters of Clearfield. The stunt of the evening was a notable event. Seldom does a Clearfield audience have the pleasure or opportunity of hearing a real victor artist. E. Russell Williams, the well known player on the Chevrolet, has added to his musical instruments the saw. Accompanied by Mrs. Williams at the piano, a number of well-known selections were given on a brand new saw purchased for the occasion.

CLEARFIELDERS BUY WELL KNOWN STORE AT PHILIPSBURG

What is probably the oldest and most stable business establishment in Phillipsburg is about to pass into the hands of two of Clearfield's energetic young men. The Andrews store at Phillipsburg will, on January 1st, come into control of J. W. Oley, manager of the A. W. Leonardson Store of Clearfield and E. J. Watson, who has been associated with the Leonardson Store here for a couple of years and who, prior to that time was an employee of the County National Bank.

These two young men are fitted in every way to assume their new responsibilities. They know the store business well, having learned in the school of experience and under the tutelage of A. W. Leonardson, with out a doubt one of the most capable store executives in this state. Both are indefatigable workers and deserving of success. Through their expert knowledge Phillipsburg can expect to have a store that will bring honor to their town.

The Phillipsburg Journal has the following to say of the deal and the principals in it:

One of the oldest retail merchandising establishments in Phillipsburg, the W. C. Andrews store, will go into new hands the first of the year. Two Clearfield business men, J. W. Oley and E. J. Watson, both associated with the Leonardson Company at Clearfield, one as a manager and the other in the auditing department will return from business activities.

The Andrews store, which was purchased by the present owner and manager thirty-four years ago from J. H. Leonardson, has long been regarded as one of the leading retail dry goods stores in the Centre-Clearfield region. In addition to the usual line

Two Fine Addresses Are Heard By Women's Club; An Interesting Program

A large and interesting meeting of the Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Buchanan on Nichols street on Tuesday evening.

Two very important communications were received by the Club from the State Department of Public Health.

The first asked the organization to endorse the campaign which the state is waging to have an "Annual Adult Health Examination."

The second described the appalling trail of disease which is left in the wake of the traveling carnival. The Woman's Club was asked to take a stand on the subject and as the Public Welfare Department in preventing any carnival from operating any place in the state.

Mrs. J. H. Martin portrayed the "Modern Woman in the Home" by giving a vivid description of the different methods of doing house work between the past and the present.

She amused her hearers by telling what "ye ladies" of the past wore and how she put on her very voluminous and numerous garments and the length of time she spent in arranging herself. She said, "It took woman a long time to harness her love for adornment. But the Modern Woman by one leap broke the chains of prejudice and emancipated not only herself but all women for all time."

The women of today are doing club and civic work in the time their ancestors wasted "getting dressed."

Mrs. George Reed in her talk on "That Rainy Day" said "Life with its ups and downs, its hopes and disappointments, its uncertain standards of values, is too precarious a thing to be taken at its face value and the old adage to save for a rainy day, is a wise one."

Banking, saving and insurance, are but the means whereby we can discount the effect of the rainy day."

Under banking she said, "Like a great many other things the time to commence a good habit is in childhood and we are perhaps building better for the next generation through our school banking system. In 1917, 20 per cent of the pupils of our Junior High School banked, now 100 per cent."

Toyland Holds Untold Joys

• There is so much joy penned up in our Toyland just waiting for the boys and girls coming to get it that it's little wonder that parents catch the spirit the minute they get to the bottom of the stairs leading there.

There are such wonderful toys, too! Foreign markets have been combed; American toymakers have been requisitioned for their best and thus you find that the showing here is little short of a veritable Santa storehouse.

If you parents could but drop in here nights after school and hear the things we hear about the toys, you'd fully understand why we feel proud of the showing we have for you.

But—may we ask you to come in soon? The early shopping has made inroads into some of the kinds of toys we could not duplicate and if you would get the better selections, be sure to get in tomorrow some time.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

It beats the band how some women can be induced to give themselves the benefit of the doubt, when it comes to the matter of telling their age. This was shown in criminal court Wednesday morning. A sprightly looking woman was called to the witness stand in a case that was being heard, and in reply to the attorney's question gave her age as 28. At the conclusion of her testimony a second young woman was called. In reply to questions she said she was married and her age was 18. When asked if she knew the preceding witness, she caused a moment of a cringing of necks when she replied, "Yes, that is my mother." It would in any event, now wouldn't it?

The annual report of the War Department shows that the United States government has already paid a bonus of $100,127,460 to ex-service men of the world war. This is in conformity with an amendment to which the revenue act approved February 24, 1919, which directed the payment of $60 to every person who served in the military forces of the United States during the world war and who was honorably discharged. This payment was to be in addition to all other amounts due any ex-service men. The payment of $60 was included in the bonus pay voucher given every ex-service man at the time of his honorable discharge. Subsequent to the passage of the act, all soldiers discharged between April 6, 1917, and the passage of the act and who were not given this payment are entitled to it by submitting their claims to the adjutant general of the War Department. Only 1,698,791 have filed claims and been paid.

One hundred and twenty-two Pennsylvania women last year became mothers before they reached their 21st birthday, an analysis of 1922 birth certificates filed with the bureau of vital statistics showed, Dr. William R. Batt, state registrar, announced recently.

Although in 75 per cent of all cases the mothers were between 20 and 25 years old, there were 940 cases of women who became mothers between the ages of 45 and 50. In twenty births where the mothers were over 50. There were 1,925 whose ages were recorded on the certificates as above 55 years.

Higher birth rate among foreign born women than among native born was pointed out by the birth statistics. The figures showed that 175 out of each 1,000 foreign born women became mothers.

The analysis also showed that in general the largest families were among the foreign born although of two women who were mothers of 21 children, one was native and the other foreign born, and one American woman was the mother of 24 children.

"That there is a tendency to maintain national relationship," Dr. Batt said, "is evidenced by the fact that out of every 1,000 native born mothers 897 had native born husbands, and of the countries contributing foreign husbands Austria-Hungary gave 9, Canada 12, Scandinavia 8, Great Britain 8, Ireland 4, Germany 9, Italy 16, Poland 6, Russia 8, all other foreign countries 10, and nationality unstated 13."

CHICKEN POX BUG PUTS MANY TO BED DURING LAST WEEK

That pestiferous little bug known as the chicken pox germ broke loose among local kiddies the past week and for the seven days ending last evening just twelve cases of the disease were reported to the Board of Health. In addition to these cases, four cases of whooping cough and one of diphtheria were also reported during the week. For the same period the quarantine was lifted in seventeen cases of contagion, thirteen of which were chicken pox.

There is under quarantine at present within the borough limits a total of twenty-five cases of communicable disease.

They are located as follows:—

First Ward: Scarlet fever, 1; typhoid fever, 1; chicken pox 6; diphtheria, 1.

Second Ward: Chicken pox 6.

Third Ward: Diphtheria 1, measles 1, whooping cough 6.

Fourth Ward: Diphtheria 1.

WILL FRYER DUBOIS

CITIZEN DIES

Harvey A. Landis, one of the best known citizens of DuBois, died yesterday afternoon at 3:55, following an illness that has extended over a period of several months.

In the death of Mr. Landis the community loses a man of unusual traits of character, a citizen of the greatest integrity, and an individual who was a great asset in every respect. As his eulogist, Father Potter, stated at the Rotary meeting, he was a man "of a congenial and friendly nature." Mr. Landis was truly a friend of everyone; not a friend in the sense of being friendly only, but a friend whose assistance could be enlisted at all times, and whose helpfulness was greatly appreciated.

Mr. Landis was prominent in the life of this community. He was a charter member of the Country Club and always took a keen interest in its affairs; he was a Rotarian, and truly exemplified its slogan—service—he was a past president of the Acorn Club, and for years was a guiding spirit in this well known organization; he was an active and earnest member of the Masonic fraternity, the church, serving diligently on various official boards, always striving to fulfill his obligations.

The deceased was also an active member of the Masonic fraternity, belonging to all the bodies. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in Runnaberger cemetery.

MILK

THE COMPLETE FOOD For Baby, Growing Child or Adult

The complete food contains all the essentials for normal growth and development. No other one food contains all these things in the same happy combination. Try, for instance, to live on cereals alone. There is no combination of cereals, even, which will sustain life as long as milk. Try an entire meat diet—even the Eskimo, the heaviest meat eating race in the world, turns to milk as a relief from the continued use of flesh and fat. Nature has done this for us—and Nature seldom makes a mistake. A complete tuber diet—potatoes, beets and the like, soon palls on the palate and becomes sickening to the taste.

But not so with milk. Milk contains all the essentials of these foods in a combination selected by Nature in order that it should be the complete food. There are the body building substances, called proteins, there are the fats, starches and sugars, called the carbo-hydrates which supply energy to keep these bodies of ours on the move. Then, last but very important in the needs, come the mineral substances which are needed in the growth and functioning of the body such as the skeleton, the brain and the blood.

In no other food will you find a combination of these elements as you find them in the milk which we deliver to your home every day.

Dainty Gifts for Baby's First Xmas

Perhaps this is Baby's first Christmas, perhaps it is the second, but—Baby must be remembered! And the gifts must be dainty things, just as dainty as his dear little self. For his first Christmas may we suggest a pair of crimson soft kid Shoes; a quilted Satin Robe for his airing; fleecy wool ankle-length Panties; a Jack and Jill Bib of light rubber to save his pretty dresses; Nilke Soft Toys for her to play with—to stick in her mouth, as they all do; Little Bo-Peep Nursery Rhyme Balls; dainty white Ivory Brush and Comb Sets; and many different Celluloid Toys for keeping tota amused while getting their bath.

then comes the 2-to-4-year-old

Here is what lots of people call the neglected age. But why should they be neglected when these pretty things await them here? Brushed Wool Sets for keeping little bodies warm days like today, little Arctics to keep those pink toes good and warm; Sleds with bodies on them—bodies that look like a real sleigh; little Books to hold Baby's very own phonograph records; Balls for them to chase and laugh over; pretty little hand made Dresses; fluffy little Coats; gay little Bonnets just like Mother's and a lot of other things which will be just the thing for Her Majesty.

Political Paragraphs

ODELL HAUSER'S COLUMN

The week whose beginning saw the announcement of the candidacy of President Coolidge, cannot be considered without incident, especially when it was also the week of the meeting of the Republican National Committee called to name the convention city for 1924 and make other plans incident to the great quadrennial gathering of the party. Still less, when it was in addition the first full week of reaction from the opening of Congress and the delivery of a message from a President suddenly projected into office by the death of a predecessor.

This week has been all those things and therefore it has been a busy one. More than ever it tended to accentuate the fact that for the moment Pennsylvania's politics is being played in Washington.

Many of the state notables were at the capital city. They played an important part in the deliberations of the National Committee. And they played an important part in those other less conspicuous deliberations about the question: Now that Coolidge is out for the president, what are we going to do about it?

Many persons in Washington are asking that question. And many of them are asking it particularly of the Pennsylvania, for with its large block of votes in a Republican national convention, the Keystone State is a decided factor in the results. That is why so many leaders in national politics and so many Washingtonians who are merely spectators are inquiring about what this state means by its refusal to warm up to any particular candidate and its insistence that it intends to send an unimpaired delegation to the national convention this time.

That is why Pennsylvanians like Senators Pepper and Reed, State Chairman W. Harry Baker, ex-Gov. William C. Sproul, who sat in the meeting on a proxy for a time, Mr. Barclay H. Warburton, vice chairman of the Republican State Committee, and others who spent a part of the week in Washington had a good deal of talking to do. They were busy in the National Committee meetings but they were perhaps busier outside.

The declaration by the President's friends that he is to be considered a candidate now brings him into the open. Of course, it had as good as been taken for granted all along that he would be a candidate and the announcement took nobody by surprise. Nevertheless, it had an important effect. Those who were inclined to work for the President could not come into the open and declare themselves because it would have been needed the same thing. The unexpressed thought behind their statement apparently was that if Pinchot could get the Pennsylvania delegation tied up to him, it would be the best politics for the Johnson people to let him do it, figuring that in the convention the Governor of Pennsylvania could not get enough votes to make him a formidable candidate, and when he realized this he would swing his delegates to his old-time fellow Progressive, the Senator from California, meanwhile having kept them safe from anyone else.

And for the moment, that seems to be where the Johnson-Pinchot matter stands. Hiram's hordes are waiting for the Governor to make up his mind and let them in on the secret. But there is no evidence the Governor has made up his mind. He is known for his talent at keeping his intentions hidden and he is using all his talent at the moment.

Those close to the center of things, however, have been made aware of certain moves that indicate Mr. Pinchot is quietly getting together the nucleus of a state organization to take the field for him. From present indications, it appears likely the Governor will next spring combine a fight for Presidential delegates with a fight for Republican members of the General Assembly favorable to his policies. The two things could well be done at the same time, for if Mr. Pinchot is going to fight the organization the broader the issue he can raise, and therefore the more he can stir up the state, the better for his slim chance of success.

Those of us who are not to Pennsylvania in a local way were not of primary importance during the week. One of them was that Senator Pepper assured the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce that both he and Senator Reed would support the Mellon tax reduction program. As this is rapidly building up to be the dominating domestic issue that can scarcely fail to have an influence in this state, as elsewhere, in the next national election, that fact is worthy of note.

There have also been some little rumors and reports of trouble at Harrisburg among the department heads, which is not new by any means. The latest name to be attached to these rumors is that of the State Librarian, Dr. George P. Donehue, whom the Governor is said to have asked for his resignation. Nothing is said publicly by either Dr. Donehue or the Governor and the incident may or may not go further. However, sooner or later there is going to be trouble between Mr. Pinchot and some of the department heads he appointed. Tied up with this situation was the report that the executive board created under the code had stopped holding meetings, but this was denied by the Governor.

In the meantime our old friend, State Treasurer Snyder, has been stirring the waters. He took occasion to criticize the State Police for paying the salary of Capt. Herbert H. Smith while he was deputy warden at the Eastern Penitentiary. His statement was peppy and he did not overlook the opportunity for hurling a few verbal brickbats at his friend, the Governor. All of which reminds one that January 5th is approaching, on which date the Supreme Court will hear argument in the code appeal. And when that is over somebody is going to do considerable loud talking

Progress Editorial For Women

ROOM TO BREATHE

By FLORENCE DAVIES

The housing shortage and juvenile delinquency are closely linked by Judge Edward F. Boyle of the New York Children's Court. Choosing at random twenty cases of the hundreds coming before his court, Judge Boyle recently submitted a report to the state industrial commission showing that the inability of parents to obtain proper homes in other neighborhoods forced them to keep their children in unwholesome environments and led to delinquency.

The report listed cases after cases of boys and girls whose families, sometimes consist of eight, ten, twelve and in one instance fourteen, persons, were forced to live in two, three and four rooms sleeping often six and eight in a room.

Judge Boyle makes the point that bad housing makes bad morals, and he would have the state or the city see that children are properly housed. Well, why not. The city or the state has long made it the public business to see that every child is schooled; many cities now insist that every child be properly fed, on the ground that undernourished bodies and undernourished minds are prone to both disease and crime. But it seems that feeding and schooling are of no avail if the homes whence come the children are not fitting domiciles, but instead, the rabbit hutches and rat holes which so many slum tenements really are.

We are fond of saying, rather complacently, perhaps, that poverty is no disgrace. As a people we have always thrown a glow of sickly sentimentality over poverty. We have pretended that the poor were more inclined to morality than the rich. True enough, poverty is of itself no disgrace, but isn't it about time we came to the conclusion that neither is it a merit? Not only are the poor no more morally inclined than the rich, but by reason of bad sanitation and insufficient room to live, they are the more certainly predisposed to crime, just as they are the more certainly exposed to disease.

Passing a law is the panacea for all ills. But so far it has proved a doubtful one. We need something more than a law which limits the number of human beings who are to be permitted to breathe a certain number of cubic feet of air. We need a realization on the part of every one that decent living conditions are essential to decent living and that decent living is essential to good citizenship.

When we actually believe that, we are going to stop manufacturing criminals by huddling human beings together in a degrading fashion.

YOUR 1923 AUTO LICENSE WILL BE GOOD UNTIL FEB. 1

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 15.—The State Highway Department today set February 1, 1924 as the date when automobile licenses for the New Year must be carried.

An extension of one month was granted in order that no hardship may be felt by motorists who have failed to receive their tags through no fault of their own.

Registrar Ben G. Eynon said today that by February 1st the Department will have caught up in its work of title registration and issuance of new license tags.

Approximately 50,000 applications for title under the new law have not been filed, he said, making the number of vehicles registered to date, 1,100,000 and the number of title applications received total 1,060,000. Over 200,000 tags for 1924 have

THE BASIS OF SAFETY

Beautiful buildings, strong vaults, marble and bronze equipment do not make a bank safe.

In the last analysis, the strength of a bank lies in the men behind the bank.

The officers of the County National are careful business men who feel keenly their responsibility as guardians of the people's money.

Its directors are successful men in their own lines of business. They give to the conduct of the bank's affairs the same care and consideration that have made them leaders in their business.

This bank offers you the highest degree of safety.

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 16

WORLD-WIDE MISSIONS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:9-15; 21:20.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth."—Rom. 1:16.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Preaching by a Missionary.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Crosses the Sea.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul's Ambition.
YOUNG PEOPLE'S AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul's Aim and Methods.

The Gospel having broken the confines of the Jewish city and country, the middle wall of partition being abolished, the time came for it to leap across the Aegean sea and begin its conquest of another continent. Christianity thus ceased to be an oriental religion and through the centuries has been mainly occidental.

1. Call to Macedonia (Acts 16:9-11).
I. The Vision (v. 9). Being hemmed in on all sides, a vision was given to Paul of a man of Macedonia pleading for help. This made plain to him the closed doors about him. The Spirit of God definitely leads in the closing of some doors as in the opening of others. In finding the divine will we should look both ways. Before there can be any great forward movement there must be a vision. The great achievements of men are the products of vision.

2. The Advance (vv. 10, 11). As soon as the divine way was known they moved forward therein. Visions must be quickly translated into aggressive actions or else they are blotted from our skies. They neither questioned the vision of God nor delayed action. This is characteristic of all of God's true servants. With a straight course Paul moved out of his own country to the strategic center of a new continent.

II. The First Convert in Europe (Acts 16:12-15).

The missionaries first went to Philippi and spent several days in studying conditions there. The Jewish element in this city was comparatively insignificant so much so that they could not have a synagogue. Therefore, the devout people were accustomed to worship by the castle. To this humble gathering Paul came and preached to the women assembled there. A certain woman from Thracia, a proselyte, believed his message and was baptized. The work of the Lord thus had a very humble beginning, but it was destined to transform all Europe and the world. The steps in Lydia's conversion are worthy of note for they are typical.

1. Attendance at the Place of Worship (v. 12). Usually those whom God is calling are found at the place of prayer. Lydia was seeking the heavenly light. God sends many an inquirer to the prayer meeting.

2. Listening to the Preaching of the Word of God (vv. 13, 14). It is highly important that at every prayer meeting the Word of God shall be spoken, so that the inquirer after God may find the light.

3. Her Heart Was Opened by the Word (v. 14). Only the Lord can convert a soul. It is our business to preach the Word of God and it is God's business to open the heart of the inquirer. No one is ever converted against his will.

4. She Was Baptized (v. 15). Everyone whose heart the Lord has opened desires to receive Him in baptism.

5. Her Household Believed Also (v. 15). This was as it should be. Real conversion cannot be concealed.

6. Practical Hospitality (v. 15). Those who have experienced God's saving grace are at once disposed to have part in His work by welcoming aid to His ministers.

III. Paul Preaching in Rome (Acts 28:20, 21).

Paul continued his labors in vindicating his testimony to the world amongst thrilling experiences. In spite of beatings, shipwrecks and imprisonments, we find him near the close of his life to the imperial capital city. Though a prisoner he continues to preach the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. In the providence of God, he had liberty to preach the Gospel to all who came to him.

IV. Paul's Aim in Preaching the Gospel Was World-Wide (Rom. 15:14-21).

His heart's transcendent desire was to preach the Gospel that the Gentiles might become obedient to the faith. In order that this might be accomplished he pushed out into unexplored regions so that the light of the Gospel might shine into the darkness of the heathen world. May we follow his example, for there is much work to be done.

Prayer.

Bring your plans, your purposes to God's throne. Test them by praying about them. Do nothing large or new—nothing small nor old, either—for that matter—till you have asked there, in the silence of the secret place, "Lord, what wouldst Thou have me to do?"—Alexander MacLaren.

Worry is Not Faith.

Worry is not faith. It is doubting God, who has promised to supply all our need in Christ Jesus.—Record of Christian Work.

UNPARDONABLE SIN EXPLAINED

A crowded house again greeted Evangelist Poulson at the last of the week night services in the West Side Methodist tabernacle. The unusually large number of conversions already recorded in this campaign has awakened a wide interest in the meetings and a large number of visitors were present last evening.

In his remarks the evangelist pointed out that every violation of God's law required a corresponding punishment for the transgression. But for every transgression God had also, at great cost, provided a pardon, with one exception. That unpardonable sin he declared was no one act of any kind, but the final rejection of Christ as our only Saviour. Said he "To die unconfessed and unforgotten, with the blood of Christ under your feet and not cleansing the heart, that God can not forgive, neither could we ask Him to forgive."

Again the altar was filled with seekers, many of whom were men. At least a half dozen ministers were present and assisted with the service. The splendid chorus choir were at their best and rendered most helpful aid throughout the evening. This evening's service is being observed as rest night but as many as can possibly on the Sabbath day, there will be a do so of the workers will attend the community mass meeting, open to all, at three o'clock, when the usual barracks, where Evangelist will be "Job's Puzzle" or "Where Are the Dead?" Poulson will assist with the meetings, the dead?" The campaign closes with in addition to the regular services, the Sunday evening service.

Curwensville's
Own Column

A meeting of the Pocahontas order Thursday evening in the Red Men's rooms was one of the most interesting that has been held since its organization. Among other features was a sort of a burlesque entertainment by some of the members by which a powerful lot of amusement was obtained. A very pleasant evening was spent all around.

The Kelly hunting camp was broken up yesterday and the duffle brought into town. Five fine bucks were killed by the hunters who inhabited that shanty this season, and those of them who were not in with a kill had a powerful lot of fun at any rate and enjoyed the outing out on the mountain tops to their heart's content. Other camps will be broken up today and the occupants return to their various homes. It is said that not many deer were killed out there this season as last but those that had been killed were larger and in better condition than last. The female deer are becoming more plentiful year by year, but the males are few in comparison, and at the rate the male is being trimmed out of the woods it will only be a short space of time until he will be extinct.

At a meeting of the school board to evening this week Warren Kepner, South Side member of Second Ward, was elected as secretary vice Frank Mullen, whose time and term had expired.

John Shearer opened up his new store on Susquehanna avenue today. A gas station is one of the apartments operated, besides groceries, candies, nuts, ice cream, etc.

On Wednesday America Belone, of this place, and Miss Rose Brun, of Clearfield, were united in wedlock by Rev. Dale at his office. The newly weds went on a jaunt to Philadelphia before finally settling down in their new home at the county seat. The groom is a son of Mrs. Givester Belone and a brother of John Belone, this place and is a young man who has many warm friends who wish him well as the wedding years go by.

After the services in the Methodist church closed last evening supper and light luncheon was served in the basement of the church.

Mrs. H. C. Bailey and daughter Pearl called on Mrs. Walter Johns at Madera on Monday.

WOODLAND

Mr. and Mrs. George Cole have returned to their home in Denora after visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Sarah Ross celebrated her 81st birthday on Tuesday of last week. Mrs. Ross is a remarkable old lady.

Miss Ethel Mitchell was a Clearfield visitor on Tuesday.

The Young Women's Loyalty Class of the U. S. Sunday School, was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Burk Albert on Tuesday evening.

Roy Warren of the U. S. S. Arkansas, stationed at the Brooklyn Navy yard is on a fifteen day furlough at the home of his mother, Mrs. John Warren of Mineral Springs.

The C. O. M. E. class of the M. E. Sunday School held a very successful Poverty Social on Tuesday evening in Swift's Hall. The folks young and old had a fine time and enjoyed the fine eats served by the little girls of the class.

Mrs. Devling and Mrs. H. O. Barger were Clearfield visitors on Wednesday.

Mrs. Thos. Heberling and Mrs. Wm. Lewis of Tyrone, visited Mrs. Clara Stewart on Thursday.

Cecilia Baker is confined to her home with an attack of grippe and stiff neck.

Dr. G. E. Mauk and U. B. Walker, of Woodland and John Gilman, a former Woodland boy but who now resides in Pittsburgh returned from the hunting camp on Wednesday evening. Mr. Gilman has hunted for 20 years without success, still using the original box of shells. Mr. Walker's box of shells are half gone. They say the deer do not treat them fair for they will not stand still (we mean the deer.)

EAT HERE ONCE;
YOU'LL COME OFTEN

Once you eat here you are bound to come here often. The home cooking is making such a hit with so many folks that the circle is widening out every day. Come in and eat a meal or, if you feel hungry and want something dainty perhaps a lunch will be better—but come in anyhow and enjoy the home cooking.

A Great Story—A Greater Picture!

One of America's greatest authors, Jack London, traveler and student of life, wrote this latest screen triumph: a colorful, gripping story that is nothing short of sensational—nothing like it ever in pictures before.

Reginald Denny plays the leading role, in this his greatest picture. Women will love him, men will admire him.

Two of the year's greatest picture successes, "The Flirt" and "The Flame of Life" were directed by Herbert Henley, who also directed this one. This is his greatest picture.

Your whole family should see this big, clean, inspiring story of real men and women. Rugged action is interspersed with love moments and dramatic situations as fine as any you could wish for. You'll admit it's the greatest entertainment ever!

Wanted—Help to Spend A Million!

If you were suddenly left a million, would you know what to do with it?

Tom Gwynne was left a million. He thought he knew what to do with it. He had ideas. So did others who volunteered to help him spend it. Dizzy dames and subtle schemers led him through wild and startling adventures until a wise little girl showed mere man a thing or two about handling money.
